It is the purpose of this company to reveal to the big of companies the real value of a machine to Taisa's chief industry and turn out finished nilots for the work. For every inarchine sold the school guarantees a sfull course of instruction and a graduated fiver where this is possible. One large local oil company has already ordered a Curts machine for use in keeping in touch with their properties in Kansas.

Students are already being entailed by Lioutenant Campbell and affight is made from the field each day by instructor and student. The planes in use are new, having been received but recently from the Curtis factory. In another two weeks Leutenant Campbell will have two more machines here which will put four planes at the disposal of Tusans eager to take the course of instruction. Two new instructors will also be on hand by that time.

A hangar capable of accommodating 12 large planes will be built at the field in the near future and the firm will also erect a clubhouse. These accommodations will be of great benefit to airmen stopping here en route to Texas from 8t Louis.

In Every Line There Must of Necessity Be a Leader

Competition is the soul and life of every commercial enterprise—Just so in the Grocery and Meat Lines.

LEADERSHIP is acquired by adherence to strict business principles, based on the requirements of patrons.

Such LEADERSHIP has generously been accorded to the PEOPLES EXCHANGE because of their established principles of always offering none but best qualities at prices shown by comparison to be the lowest.

If you, Dear Reader, doubt this statement watch the different advertisements and note the implied thrusts that are always given the PEOPLES EXCHANGE. Thrusts that we cheerfully accept—because the leader in his respective line always receives criticism.

There's Value Added to Good Values in These New

Wirthmor Waists

Waists to crowd into them every possible iota of value. This has been Wirthmor policy ever since the Waists had their inception many years ago. And, now as the cost of cotton materials recede, its possible to put this added value into the Waists in the way of finer trimmings or more costly workmanship. If you are familiar with the splendid quality of the Wirthmor but haven't bought one lately, then we urge upon you the advisability of seeing these exceptionally pleasing new styles that go on sale tomorrow. The values considered, the prices are extremely moderate.
